Hello there!

I'm a silver player, mainly top laner and i want to ask you guys for some help and if you wish to share your knowledge because i want to improve.

1. If i want just to last hit the first wave and the enemy just shove like a maniac. What should i do? Should i start to shove too or let him push?

2. Earlier today i faced a plat 3 player (in flex). I was playing with Olaf, he was playing with Gnar. I killed him first and i had some CS advantage, but after that he started to have more farm then me and he (i guess from the much more gold he earned) started to kill me and get the lead. I guess that is because he last hitted better and farmed much more gold then me? Or it's all about wave management?

I feel embarrassed for these questions but i know that here are kind people to answer and help a low elo noob :)
