Hello, my name is Eragon and I'm a positional coach, I don't see many videos on more advanced concepts in wave management etc and I made a video about how to contest prio in bad early matchups where you shouldn't get it. This is especially important for contesting crab early which junglers get very heated about.

Hope this helps and if you have any questions feel free, I'll stick around in this thread for a bit.

Hey, very nice video t hank you.

Quick off topic question: If my comfortable champion pool in mid plat consists of the followings:

Urgot, Jayce, Cho, Sion and Karma - who do I pick against Darius?

How do I fight garen into Darius, also do you think akali top is viable?

Sorry to semi-hijack the thread with a question, but for someone who plays tanks, who would you recommend as a good blind pick? I've been getting first pick more and more often recently, and I'm never sure which of the 7 for Top is my best choice.

If it matters, I usually ban either Morde or Fiora depending on how I'm feeling that day.
