

Title: Wave management top lane

--- POST CONTENT ---

Hi everyone, I'm currently struggling a lot with wave management on top lane. I feel like my understanding is really weak and I often make mistakes with pushing, slow pushing, freezing, and timing my recalls. I'm looking for high-quality educational resources videos, guides, or tutorials that explain wave control, slow push, freeze, and general laning strategy for top lane?. Who do you recommend to watch?

For content coach chippys just made a video on wave control. That'd be the best thing to watch at the moment.

AloisNL is great for this. He often explains what he's going to do with the wave and what it will accomplish. He should have a dedicated guide on this stuff, I'm almost sure. He calls it "fundamentals".
